LOCAL AND GENERAL

Good afternoon.

A. W. Lee, of Alix, is a visitor in town this week.

Miss Stevenson is the new assistant at the Post Office.

V. Fisher made a business visit to Cochrane on Wednesday.

G. W. Boyce is assisting in the Chronicle office this week.

Geo. Murton and family went to Carstairs on Sunday in the auto.

S. Bingham, of Bottrell, visited his sister Mrs. A. C. Hathaway this week.

Geo. Murton, of the Murton Realty Co., was a visitor at Acme yesterday.

Wahs Bros. shipped a car-load of hogs to P. Burns & Co., at Calgary, Tuesday.

J. A. McDougall, of Strathcona, was a business visitor in Crossfield this week.

A. E. Bishop had the misfortune to lose one of his valuable grey team on Monday morning.

Things are somewhat slow in town these days as everybody are busy putting in their crops.

Miss Bessie Bishop left on Monday afternoon's train for Calgary, where she will spend a few weeks.

The lumber is being placed on the ground for the new Masonic Hall that is to be erected on Nanton Street.

S. Walker, of Beaver Dam was in town on Tuesday, and called at the Chronicle office and subscribed for the Chronicle for a year.

W. N. Tompkins who has been in Crossfield for the past few weeks with a carload of potatoes, has sold them all, and left last night with a carload of horses for Edmonton.

H. E. Hopcraft has moved his shoe repair shop from the old stand in the south end to the next door north of the Chronicle Office, where he will be pleased to meet all his old customers.

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mrs. H. W. Curry, who will visit Crossfield next Thursday with a nice line of trimmed hats, which will be on view at Ontkes & Armstrong's store.

In reporting the sale of Thos. Fitzgerald's half-section last week we were mistaken in saying that W. M. Johnson, of Calgary put through the deal, as Hultgren & Davie were the ones through whom the deal was made.

She Had

There was a new parlor-maid in the house and Mrs. Blower was in some doubt as to her intelligence. So she asked at dusk:
"Bridget, have you turned on the gas in the parlor as I told you?"
"Gas, 'em, mum! I've t'be. Can't ye smell it?"

DO YOU KNOW—

That when you put a salve onto your child's skin, it passes through the pores and enters the blood, just as surely as if you put it into the child's stomach?

You would not put a coarse mass of animal fat, colored by various mineral poultices (such as many cure salves are) into your child's blood by way of the skin? Then why do you do so by way of the pores?

Take no risk. Use always the purest and safest salve provided in Zan-Buk. Zan-Buk contains no trace of any animal oil or fat, and is a powerful mineral coloring matter. From start to finish it is purely herbal.

It will heal sores, ulcers, abscesses, eruptions, various skin diseases, cuts, burns and bruises more quickly than any other known preparation. It is a scientific guarantee of the swiftness of a sore or cut, corns, piles, inflamed ears and blood-poisoning. It is a combination of healing powers and scientific purity. Ask those who have proved it.

LONDON THEATERS.

The Historic Pit That is Fenced Off From the Stalls.

In the orchestra of a London theatre there are only eight or ten rows of stalls, and immediately behind them is the pit, which is walled off by a barrier or fence that stretches clear across the theatre. In the pit there are no individual seats—merely rows of long benches on which the people sit rather closely together.

It is, of course, impossible to reserve seats in advance, and people who are going to the pit have to come early on the evening of the performance in order to secure the best places.

Hence in the case of a popular play a long queue of people may be seen at 7 o'clock stretching from the pit door all along the sidewalk, waiting for the house to open. They keep their places very patiently in line, united by a common mood of pleasurable anticipation.

One manager while ago made the experiment of selling reserved seats in the pit at the usual price, but to this the pit people objected strenuously on the ground that they could seldom know in advance just when they would find themselves possessed of that happy combination of money and an evening off which would permit of their going and preferring to take their chances waiting in line when the fortunate opportunity arrived.

The pit is patronized by people of a very estimable class and is often frequented by well educated men and women who wish to save money and do not care to dress. Whereas a seat in the stalls costs half a guinea or approximately $2.50, a place in the pit costs only two and six or approximately 10 cents, and the play can be seen very nearly as well.

In the pit the same program that is in the stalls for dinner is sold for two pence, and the pit has a refreshment bar of its own which is cheaper than the main bar of the theatre. Of course the real reason why there is a pit in the London theatre is that there has always been a pit. That in itself is sufficient for the British mind, but it must be admitted that the system is on grounds of common sense an exceedingly good one.—Bookman.

HOUSE OF SURPRISES.

The Home of British Diplomacy, No.
10 Downing Street.

Why does the residence of the prime minister of the kingdom resemble the dwelling of a retired grocer of simple tastes? The reply to this is forthcoming. It does not. It only pretends to.
Resembling the dwelling of a retired grocer. No. 10 Downing street begins to reveal itself as a surprise packet when you have rung one of its three bells and persuaded its front door to open.
You then discover yourself in an entrance hall whose walls and general shabbiness would be the instant ruin of a Bloomsbury temperance hotel, and you perceive that you have unwittingly done an injustice to the retired grocer. You decide that to the cer, at any rate no English grocer, would tolerate such a kennel.

But when you have penetrated a little farther, and especially when you have mounted the first flight of stairs, you will be ready to remodel your views once again. Within thirty seconds you will have lost your bearings.
Within sixty you will admit that you are in a place full of bewildering corridors and endless sumptuousness, with here and there a glimpse of some immense and stately apartment. No. 10 Downing street begins just exactly where you might have expected it to finish. Its ramifications are innumable, its geography an enigma even to the most accurate jaunter.—From Philip-potts and Arnold's "The Statute."

The Ghost of Clio.

A gruesome hour of Clio House, Stratford-on-Avon (which Mrs. Gas-sell visited as a girl) is told in Mrs.
Chadwick's book on the novelist.
Charlotte Clio, who was supposed to have died of the plague, was buried "with fearful haste." She was discovered—when the ancestral vault was opened to receive another victim of the plague—leaning against the wall in her grave clothes: she was, indeed, dead, but in her agonies of despair and hunger she had bitten a piece from her shoulder. "Of course she has walked ever since," as Mrs. Gas-sell says.

Cost of Crippen Case.

A police estimate of the cost of the proceedings in the Crippen case is $12,000. The telegraphic output, on the authority of the postoffice, was second only to that of the Monson trial in the arduousness of its footing. The cablegrams to the United States papers exceeded those of any previous murder trial.

The Question

alty?" conducted by a Parisian paper, resulted three to one in favor of
"Yes."

NERVOUS DISEASES IN THE SPRING

Can Be Removed by Toning up the Blood, Thus Strengthening the Nerves.

Nervous diseases are more common and more serious in the spring than at any other time of the year. This is the opinion of the best medical authorities after long observation.
Vital changes in the system after long winter months may cause much more than "spring weakness," and the familiar weariness and aches.
Official records prove that in April and May neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy and various forms of nerve disturbances are at their worst, especially among those who have not reached middle age.

The antiquated custom of taking purgatives in the spring is useless, for the system really needs strengthening while purgatives make you weaker. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a special action on the blood and nerves, for they give strength and have cured not only many forms of nervous disorders, but also other spring troubles, such as headaches, weakness in the limbs, loss of appetite, trembling of the hands, as well as unsightly pimples and skin troubles. They do this because they actually make new, rich, red blood, which means a return to perfect health.

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Teacher—"Does your ma brush your hair like that?"
Tommy—"No'm."

Teacher—"Who does, then?" Tommy—"I'll tell you. He way to school an' do street sweeper ran over me."—Chicago Daily News.

The transition from winter's cold to summer's heat is usually a strain upon the system that produces internal disorders, which may be mild and often serious. A common form of disorder is dysentery, to which many people are subject in the spring and summer. The very best medicine to use in subduing this painful illness is Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Remedy, which is a standard remedy, sold everywhere.

We never know how many of our friends are bound to us by the mistakes we make for them to criticize.

Blood Poisoning is often caused by slight cuts or wounds. Do not make draw out the poison, heal the wound and prevent serious trouble.

LOCALS

J. S. Martin was a business visitor in Calgary Wednesday.

King Bros., Grand Valley, 35 miles west of Crossfield, passed through here Thursday on their way to the Red Deer country.

R. L. Boyle received a new Hart-Parr gasoline engine this week which was taken out to the farm on Tuesday and put to work putting in the large crop that Mr. Boyle is having seeded this spring.

E. Burke, a construction contractor, purchased five teams of mules from C. Reinhardt this week, and shipped them north on Wednesday morning. We understand that the price paid was $690.00 per team.

Our readers will remember our mentioning a horse being sold in Cochrane the other day for $35.00 together with saddle blanket, saddle and bridle. It has transpired since that said outfit was sold for $65.00.
Well what do you know about that.

At the meeting of the Board of Trade held in Martin's Real Estate office on Friday night last it was decided to engage the Innisfail Band to attend the Fair and Sports to be held here on June 22nd. There is no doubt that this band will entertain the large gathering that will congregate here on that day, and the Board of Trade is to be congratulated on making their preparations so early.

The Chronicle Job Department is working over-time on the Prize List for the Crossfield Agricultural Society. A great addition has been made in the Classes and nothing is being left undone to make this Fair by far the greatest success in the history of Crossfield. $1,500.00 is a lot of money for a small town to raise every year for this purpose, and should be patronized by everyone in the town and district.

Correspondence

Crossfield, Alta., May 4th 1911.
I am receipt of a letter from Hon.
Orlando Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, Edmonton, where he states he has received my letter on the locality for an Experimental Farm. He states that Honorable C. A. Fisher has written and taken the case up with members of the government to have this matter brought about. Others may use their influence with Mr. Fisher or Marshall to further this cause.
Yours Truly
Thos. Fitzgerald.

Fire Department

The brigade had a very successful practice on Tuesday evening, the shack at the south end of town having been prepared for another blaze, which was the best test the engines had had, as the fire had considerable headway before the engines arrived. Those of whom were present to take their places on the engines did very good work.

The brigade is an established fact now and the business men are taking an active part in its affairs, and yet there are some who should make a point of being at every practice.

A large sum of money has been expended by the town to buy these engines, and unless the men of the town take an interest in the brigade and turn out regularly at practice they will be of very little use, for unless the men who are fighting the fire know how to work the engines they can not get the best work out of them. It has been demonstrated that these engines can put out a large blaze and do it quickly and if the men are in practice they will be able to cope with almost any fire that may happen here.

There will be another practice on Tuesday evening next, at 7.30, and let every one try to be present and on time.

Strikes in May

Agitations in the labor world usually head up and become ripe on the first of May of each year, and this year will be no exception.
May Day is one great hurrah for the laboring man with socialistic tendencies and a real or imaginary grievance. He waves the red flag, listens to red hot oratory and retires to rest with a pair of red eyes and a burning throat. The next morning he is on the job again with a clear conscience, feeling that he has done his duty by society and relieved his system of a year's pent up bile. The coal miners' strike in the west is of course the great topic of conversation in labor circles here, other predicted strikes being merely local.

April Athletic World

The April number of that interesting Canadian publication "The Athletic World" has just reached this office. A perusal of its pages and a glance at the many illustrations give free proof that in the covering not only of Canadian but also of universal sports and general pastimes, this magazine is more than fulfilling past promises and marking out a future of certain and unqualified success as a national periodical for Canadian followers of sports of all sorts.

Home Course In Tree Preservation

By JOHN DAVEY.
Father of Tree Surgery.

VL.—The Trees and the Song Birds.

[Copyright, 1914, by American Press Association.]

As I speed over the country in my lecture work on "The Salvation of Our Trees" there are many things to inspire and cheer the heart, especially that of seeing what attempts people make to grow trees, shrubs and flowers. I sometimes feel that I should like to get off the train and show people just how. To me everything seems so simple. There is no luck, no chance; it is all cause and effect. Learn just what to do and do it, and old Mother Nature is there ready to do all the rest, and, say, does she not do finely?

The one discouraging thing is, as is often the case, to meet some stupid, bigoted, conceited old ass who thinks he knows all and can't even raise a good crop of weeds. In the decade that is about to close there is truly something inspiring. In that short time, since my "Tree Doctor" raised the cry for "our wounded friends the trees" and the Cleveland newspapers re-echoed the call to the nation, practically all the newspapers have lent their aid, and the great mass of men have done noble work, and the education is thorough, but so slow. As yet there is not 5 per cent of the trees as well as the real, deplorable condition of the trees. The deterioration of the trees is faster than the education as to how to take care of them; hence my only hope now lies with the child.

Illustration No. 11 shows Mr. and Mrs. William Lodge of Silver Lake, O.

NO. 11.—CHILDREN ARE HOLDING SEEDLING WALNUT TREES.

It is not only interesting and pretty, but there are the profoundest of thoughts clustering around it. The little boys are holding a couple of seedling walnut trees, the seed (nuts) of which I brought from the old Charles Dana place, Deseronto Island, Glen Cove, N. Y. The plants are a year old, and they, it is hoped, will grow up with the children. To give an idea of what one generation could do we call attention to illustration No. 12. These trees (the largest ones) were planted thirty-three years ago by the grandfather of the children here seen. They were planted, right and then taken care of, and here they stand, honoring the memory of the patriotic citizen who believed that one of the best ways to serve one's country is to plant trees. This new movement, the saving of our song birds, exhibits an unaccountable slowness on the part of the average adult to be aroused to one of the greatest menaces that have ever been known in the history of nations, the total extinction of our song birds by the English sparrow and the crow. Unless the increase and depredations of these two birds are checked our native birds are doomed for another decade. Already we learn that an average of one-fourth of all the crops years the human race will perish from the face of the earth."

I want my readers to help restore and preserve our song birds. It will be the only way to do this is to destroy the English sparrow, which destroys the song birds. There is an "uprising" nearly all over the country against this imported pest.

The English sparrow must be destroyed. We are to save our trees. All our trees will be ruined by insects if the sparrows keep up their fight against the insect killing birds.

If you want to save your trees destroy the English sparrows.

Flying Machines and Rivers.
The rivers, once the chief thing of interest on the earth's surface, were made to give up their prestige to the railway, but the new champion of travel, the perfected flying machine, will bring back to the rivers in near future the credit of being the high ways of commerce and travel. Their floating expanse of smooth water, open to passenger and burden-carrying flying machines surfaces from which to rise and upon which they may descend in safety. And the ocean itself may yet prove to be the scene of the greatest exploits of the aviator. Some of the world's wings are now being made. It is his confidence, backed by the confidence of the people, Crowds used to gather to see him fall. Now they come to see him fly—Augustus Post in Century.

A Twenty Minute Opera.
"This is the use of hurry, nerve, and impatience," says a Paris letter, "and the number of people who object to a four act opera, no matter how gorgeous the surrounding or artistic the performance, is growing larger daily. This is true of the opera as well as of the theatre. Cecil Thérault probably had this fact in mind when she asked Paul Frank and Maube to write an opera for her which might be produced in full in twenty minutes. The work has been accomplished, the libretto having been built upon an incident in the life of the painter. The writer says, 'The music is good, the dramatic action vigorous, and the work, regarded as a whole, will be found a complete and enjoyable affair, and its rendition will consume twenty minutes.'—New York Tribune.

Price of Ivory Increasing.
Ivory continues to make rapid gains in cost and may soon reach a level in a class with gold. At the sales in Europe the tremendous demand pushes up the price. The alignment for each sale seems to be the same, and with a gaining consumption it is logical to expect a price advance.

This will require until a substitute ivory is discovered or ivory is secured in greater quantities. Although we buy a great many masks for piano keys and use the very latest method of cutting and bleaching, the margin of profit finished key ivory is exorbitantly high. With the best of skill in blocking the waste is enormous, and there are many other details in connection with key ivory manufacture that drive the price time and money.—Music Trade Review.

Chicago and Fresh Air.
Dr. W. A. Evans, Chicago's health commissioner and leading pharmacist, is out with a new batch of "health-boosters." For much fresh air is just enough to keep the lungs clear in blocking the waste is enormous, and there are many other details in connection with key ivory manufacture that drive the price time and money.—Music Trade Review.

New York's Congressmen.
New York city sends seventeen members to the house of representatives at Washington. New York county is just represented by eleven congressmen. The whole state of California is entitled to but 8 members; Iowa has 11; Kansas, 8; Kentucky, 11; Massachusetts, 14; Michigan, 12; Missouri, 16; Minnesota, 9; New Jersey, 10; Nebraska, 6, and the immense state of Texas 16, or one member less than New York city.—New York World.

Honduras.
Honduras is about the size of the state of New York and has a population of some six or seven hundred thousand, largely Indian and mestizo, or half-breed. The forests of Honduras abound in rich woods, which are a source of considerable wealth to the country.

Prevaricator.
The word prevaricator is from the Latin and originally meant a straddler with distorted or misshapen legs. In the Roman courts of law the expression was applied to one who in a suit was discovered to be in collusion with his opponent to conspire some dishonesty. As falsehood was the necessary part of such a performance, the word by and by came to have the significance at present attached to it.

FOUNDED THE Y.M.C.A.

SIR GEORGE WILLIAMS WAS FORMERLY A DRAPER'S CLERK.

In His Efforts to Improve the Condition of the Young Men With Whom He Worked His Conscience Led Him to the Young Men's Christian Association—Was Knighted by Queen Victoria for His Work.

The origin of the Y. M. C. A. is unknown to many people in Canada. The history of the beginning is the history of the efforts of a young man in a drapery shop in London to better the condition of the other young men in the establishment where he was employed and in other similar shops throughout the city. George Williams, upon whom the title of knighthood was later conferred by Queen Victoria for his great service to young men, was the founder. He began his life's work among his associates when an apprentice in a drapery establishment in Bridgewater, England. Later he went to London, where he entered the employ of the firm of George Hitchcock & Co. There he organized several of the young men of the establishment into a little band that held meetings in the sleeping rooms of the apprentices and junior clerks.

Later Mr. Hitchcock became an ardent supporter and a room was held by them in the firm in which to hold the meetings. On the evening of June 8, 1844, twelve men met, under the leadership of George Williams, in this room to consider the project of forming a "society for improving the spiritual conditions of young men engaged in the drapery and allied trades." This was the starting of the Y. M. C. A.

Fat Wives.
The people in portions of Africa have many curious customs and superstitions. With the best of skill in blocking the waste is enormous, and there are many other details in connection with key ivory manufacture that drive the price time and money.—Music Trade Review.

Being introduced to a great child's wife, Speke thus described her:—"I was struck with the extraordinary dimensions of this fat fair one. She could not rise, and so large were her arms that the flesh between the elbows hung down. The chief, pointing to his wife, said:—

"This is the product of our milk-pots. For much fresh air is just enough to keep the lungs clear in blocking the waste is enormous, and there are many other details in connection with key ivory manufacture that drive the price time and money.—Music Trade Review.

"A sister-in-law of the king was a perfect woman of hypertrophy. She was unable to stand except on a piece of wood."

"I unobtrusively requested permission to measure her. This is the result: Round the arm, 23 inches; chest, 22 inches; thigh, 31 inches; calf, 20 inches; height, 5 feet 8 inches."

"All of these are exact except the height, and I believe I could have laid her out on the floor. Not knowing this, however, I should have to contend with such a piece of engineering. I tried to get her help by raising her up."

"In a minute exertions on the part of my boys, was accomplished, when she sank down fainting, for the blood had rushed into her head."

"Meanwhile the daughter had sat before us sucking at a milk-pot, on which the father kept her at work by dragging the red, hot iron jaws, so fattening is the first duty of fashionable female life, it must be duly enforced by the rod if found necessary."

The Windmill in War.

A letter quoted in "The First Days" from the red, hot iron jaws, so fattening is the first duty of fashionable female life, it must be duly enforced by the rod if found necessary."

"1642, Oct. 11.—Upon Sunday night sat, as the neighbors of Sherborne tell our men (the) very, drew certain forces out of York to have set upon my son a man of the name of Howard. He was a village three miles from Caewold, they captured a windmill, which they took for my son's horse, matching to meet them, and certain scores of men for his men in order. Where upon they stood in more haste than they came."

BOXES FOR BRIDE'S CAKE.

The Heart Shape Design a Popular Selection.

The statement that it is not what is done, but how it is done, that counts, verges on the trite, but it is particularly applicable in the little things that contribute toward a pleasant time for wedding guests.

A wedding cake is no longer kept for weeks and weeks. It is cut into little pieces and sent out presented to the guests and friends of the happy pair.

Just how to give this in an attractive form is sometimes a question that clamors for its answer in the rush of the last few days.

Boxes can now be purchased at stationery departments of any large store, and the accessories are within the reach of the majority of brides.

There is a charming little circular box that looks like a miniature wedding cake. When tied with white ribbon or with silken cords that reflect the color scheme of the decorations it is well worth having. The ends of the bow are gathered into the tops of tiny silver bells.

For the heart shaped box of white is more appropriate. This should hold a heart-shaped piece of cake, and the top of the box should be tied down with broad ribbon, fastened under a rosette.

Square forms are always good. The addition of a card with the best wishes of the bride and bridegroom to a little personal touch that is well worth while. Through the knot of ribbon a spray of asparagus ferns can be slipped. It lasts for weeks and gives the freshness that is desirable, especially for boxes that are to be sent away.

To the friends who are present there can easily be given a spray of leaves with a blossom from the decoration of the table or rooms. Tied with a gold or silver cord, a long, narrow box will hold a fresh spray of flowers. People like to carry with them some part of the feast.

The mania for sonnets still prevails. Of course the custom of having the cake cut by the bride herself can easily be observed, for during the reception following the small pieces can be boxed and tied by a special committee of friends and distributed to the guests before their departure.

As to the dreams that may come when the fair recipients sleep with the bride's cake beneath their pillows, who can tell whether they can vie with the pleasure of receiving it in so charming a form?

Tasty Summer Dinners.
It is difficult to find a more tasty entrée for a summer dinner than the baked tomato, served on a plate with the meat or in individual ramekins. A little cold boiled tongue or ham mixed with the breadcrumbs fills the tomato, which is a tasty addition. Plenty of butter should be used in seasoning cooked tomatoes of any kind, the butter neutralizing the acid of the vegetable. For the benefit of persons who have never stuffed and baked tomatoes it might be said that a slice is taken from the top of round, apple-shaped tomatoes and the pulp is removed and mixed with breadcrumbs, rice or macaroni with or without a little minced meat and with or without onion juice and minced parsley. Melted butter should be used to moisten the crumbs, rice or macaroni. The tomatoes should be put into a baking dish and be baked in a hot oven about fifteen minutes or until they are tender and thoroughly heated through.

The dried pieces of the cheese box may be grated and mixed with rich cream and a dash of nutmeg and left to stand and ripen for a day. The result is an excellent cream cheese which may be served with the salad course or for a supper. Sour cream may be employed.

For a timely luncheon dish cover the baked tomato with fish cooked fresh or canned asparagus cut into short lengths, turn over it some rich white sauce and then break on the top an egg or two, season to be served. Bake until the whites of the eggs are set.

Eggs in Sirloin.
Englishmen are making considerable progress in cooking, especially in establishing abattoirs and refrigerating plants.

British Salt.
Of the 16,000,000 tons of salt produced in the world each year the British Empire produces 3,500,000 tons.

STRANGE ABOUT THOSE HATS

TWO SMART HATS OF THE S'AS H.

Years ago hats had trimmings. A box of feathers, roses and ribbons, lace and velvet, odd ornaments and algebras was in every woman's possession, from which she trimmed a hat or two each season with her own fair fingers. The velvet draped the crown. The algebras were for height, and the lace brightened it up a bit and lent a dresy air, and the flowers nestled at the base of the wing to set the whole thing off. That was a hat. And it cost if you were rich $12, and if you were just worrying along on a small salary the same effect was arrived at for about $6.

But now it is quite different. Hats do not have trimmings or the most very little. A bare hat is chosen, piled anywhere from, say, $4 to $23, the mode, and then it is adorned perhaps with a single feather or quill or an odd looking ornament. It has a positively naked appearance, but it is chic. That's enough. But the marvelous part about it is that it costs much more than the one with lace and the feather and buckle. Sometimes there is nothing on the chapen but a pretty little rose about as big as a baby's fist, that's all, but the rose costs $14, and the hat costs $14, and there you are. The hats illustrated are charming models of the season carried out in fur and are as chic as they are simple.

Orange Jelly in Baskets.

This makes a very pretty dessert: Extract the juice of six oranges and one lemon. Put two ounces of sugar with it and let stand until the sugar is dissolved. Soak half an ounce of gelatin in a little cold water until soft. Add sufficient water to the orange juice to make nearly a pint, and to this add the gelatin. Warm the whole mixture until the gelatin is fully dissolved, stirring thoroughly. Pour into orange peel baskets and set away in a cool place to harden.

Orange Baskets.—Cut away part of the side of orange to form a handle, leaving lower half as bowl of orange. Scoop out the pulp as far as can be taken out very carefully so as not to break the skin. An easier way is to cut the orange in halves, remove the pulp and fill with the jelly. A little of the jelly may be saved out, and when ready to serve chop it up quite fine and spread on top of the baskets. Whipped cream may also be used.

Might Have Been.
In honor of the eventful day of graduation from a cooking school, she got up a little treat.

"Yes, I've got the loveliest diploma," cried the fair graduate, "It's on sheepskin parchment, with a big gold seal. I cooked that dish you are eating. Now, just guess what it is." "It is—er—the young couple paused impressively. "It is the diploma, Peggy?"

Mrs. Bishop Entertains

Mrs. Dr. Bishop entertained a large number of her friends at her beautiful home, last Friday afternoon, where they played progressive whist. The rooms looked lovely with magnificent flowers and pretty dresses.

The hostess who was gowned in red silk, entertained in the draw-room, she was assisted by Mrs.
Thomas, in dark blue silk. The party was in honor of her guest, Miss McQuigley, of Calgary, who wore a nice blue silk and net. Those present were: Mrs. Frew, black and white, Mrs. Cameron, blue, Miss Brown, white mull, Mrs. Harvie, blue and white net, Mrs. F. H.
Motheral, blue broadcloth trimmed with satin and lace, Mrs. Divie, pink, Miss Ross, lavender silk, Mrs.
Willis, white lawn, Mrs. Lewis, cream cashmere, Mrs. Barker, black silk and net, Mrs. Timmins, black, Miss Mason, grey voile, Miss Gese-ner, mauve, Mrs. Downs, was gowned in white silk and rendered sweet strains on the piano during the afternoon. Whist was indulged in till six when a dainty luncheon was served on small tables in the dining room. The prizes went to Mr.
Davie and Miss Brown.

The Trend of Trade

Because of a increase flow of immigration from Continental ports to Western Canada and an increase in the use of the St. Lawrence route by Continental passengers traveling to points in the Western States, two steamers of the Red Star Line have been transferred, and will ply between Rotterdam and Quebec instead of between Antwerp and New York as hitherto.

They are the Samland and the Gothland, and will be included in the Canada Line service.

Increases to the fleets of the White Star Dominion, the Thompson Line and the Allan Line have also been announced. Peculiarly enough in almost every instance the vessels are being taken from the New York trade to the St. Lawrence, a small fact in itself, but showing plainly in which way the wind is blowing.

CARD OF THANKS.

The Crossfield Board of Trade take this opportunity of thanking

COCKSHUTT'S Flexible Pulverizer and Compressor

Compresses the soil around the seed, conserving the moisture and giving the root filaments a firmer hold so that they are not affected by heavy winds.
The use of this machine invariably means a considerable increase in the yield per acre—often more than enough to pay for itself in one crop. Being flexible it conforms to uneven ground. Bearings are readily oiled and replaced when worn out. For other valuable features consult the undersigned. We also
